youth

Mary Margaret Budd
Editor-In-Chief

"In a world that is thinking much in terms of democracies and dictatorships, we are glad that in East High we have a democracy. The youth of East may speak his mind on all the problems confronting his interest in the school, and because of this we have chosen as our theme, YOUTH SPEAKS. The book is divided into two parts: YOUTH AT WORK and YOUTH AT PLAY."

"In YOUTH AT WORK we present the administration and the student body. Working together they develop the character and ideals of Aurora's future citizens."

at Work

A Student Leader speaks.

"A government of the students, by the students, and for the students, can aptly be applied to the administration of East High. Mr. Walters, as president of the Student Council, I want to thank you for the opportunities which we have here and for your willingness to help us with our problems."

WARREN MUTH
President Student Council

The Chief Counselor replies.

"Of course, Warren, you realize that this democratic spirit would be impossible without the cooperation of every student. Willingness to accept responsibility is the very foundation of every self-governing body. I believe we are learning this principle in East High."

Meet the Boss!

Mr. Waldo's keen interest in every joy and problem of the young people of the East Side Schools is strongly felt among the students. One of his most remarkable qualities which all appreciate is his ability to remember so many students' names.

KARL D. WALDO
Superintendent East Side Schools

Step into the office!

Deans

The quick, understanding smile of Miss Veronica O'Neil, Dean of Girls and Student Council adviser, has smoothed many paths for the Girls' Club, the Student Council, and the girls themselves during this year.

Just one of the fellows, but with a trace of gray in his hair is Mr. Jay L. Hunter, Dean of Boys. Here he is seen discussing his many money problems as treasurer of the school with Murray Hilt, one of his bookkeepers.

See your representative.

Student Council

If you should happen to drop into the library the second or fourth Tuesday of the month, you would see this group, the Student Council representatives and cabinet members, talking over problems and activities that interest every high school student. You see, the Student Council governs the entire student body.

These are the students who led the Student Council during the past year—Warren Muth, president; Marion Stolp, secretary-treasurer; Mary Crego, secretary-treasurer; and Ralph Foster, vice-president.

During "Student Day," the entire school was run under the supervision of pupils. Here we have Ralph Foster, who fulfilled Mr. Hunter's place as Dean of Boys, Warren Muth, who acted as principal for Mr. Walters, and Helen Judt who took over Miss O'Neil's position as Dean of Girls. It looks as though Warren is taking advantage of being principal for a day, for this poor freshman boy is being presented with a 7:30 because he violated traffic regulations on the stairway.

Any sample cookies?

Does that delicious odor make you feel simply famished? Perhaps you can relieve that empty feeling by hanging around the cooking room door—Miss Norman and the girls in the Cooking classes are very kind-hearted.

It's out of tune? Well, that can easily be remedied now that the Music Department has a stroboscope with which to tune instruments accurately. Not many high schools are fortunate enough to own one.

Don Schmeisser

Do you want a poster made for the next dance? Just mention your wishes to the Art Department which makes posters for all school activities as well as community affairs.

Here's how it's done.

Careful! Don't pound your thumb while making those tables, magazine racks and other useful articles for the home. By the way, rumor has it that one of the boys in the general shop made a hope chest.

Printing the programs for the Music Festival is the main job of the boys on this day. Soon they will be fastening them into the attractive covers they printed yesterday.

The presses are rolling! A busy, busy place where programs, tickets, posters and the Auroran are printed.

Another division of the "Dad's little helpers" department, better known as General Shop, is metal working. The boys make lamps, measures, mail boxes, baskets for fireplaces, and other articles of use in the home.

Do I sound like that?

Tumbling, pyramid building, dancing, sports, and like activities keep the girls in the Physical Education Department happy and healthy.

My, that man has changed the map again! And the Social Science classes must re-consult their maps and charts for a lesson in current events.

"To hear ourselves as others hear us" may be misquoting Burns, but it does apply to the English Department since the addition of the recording system. Here are two students taking advantage of the voice improvement privilege.

Watch the birdie, girls!

Beware how you look as you walk down the street! There may be a camera fan waiting around the corner and you should look your best when you go down on a permanent record.

You may almost drown—but don't worry. The girls in the Swimming Class can easily bring you back to life by artificial respiration.

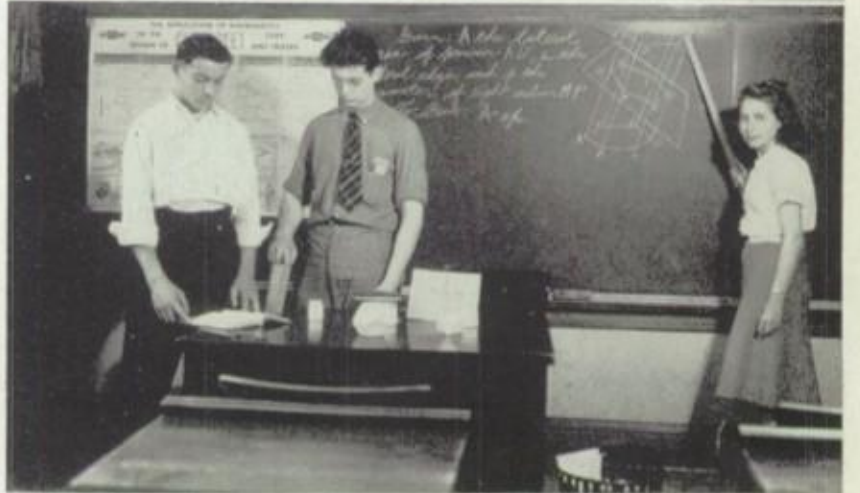

Feel a little dizzy? Call a Home Nursing student. They have had practical experience in taking care of sick people and small children. Here a student puts the baby to bed, while another takes a patient's temperature.

Do you see what I see?

"What a darling outfit! You mean you made it yourself from start to finish?" These exclamations are not unusual concerning the garments produced in the Clothing Department. See the Annual Fashion Show and judge for yourself.

Squares, circles, hexagons, rectangles, and oblongs—all are important to the math students who see their practical use in engineering, art, and science.

Even Aurora has changed in the last few years, so Mr. T. L. Carlson's Civic classes have been busy compiling data for a revised "Government of Aurora" pamphlet.

Do you feel a creative urge? The art department is a fine place to test your ability. Soap carvings, pottery, clay models, book-cover designs, sketches and water color pictures are the products of the amateur artist of East High.

What goes on here!

Don't cry, just go to Miss Krug's office and she will be glad to fix you up as good as new. Even your worst enemies will recognize you when she finishes.

The only class in East High where it is proper to drag the skeleton out of the closet is Biology. If you like it, you can also study all kinds of tiny bugs—under the microscope, of course.

The one place in school for quiet thought and concentrated study is the library—the show place of East High.

A Speck's-eye view.

Not the latest styles of Spain, France, Germany and Rome are displayed here, but the national costumes of these countries worn here by the students of the Foreign Language Department.

A true gentleman must be able to work with his hands as well as his head. The Mechanical Drawing classes provide just such training as an important part of East High's industrial education.

Just four little words—a sentence the future stenographers and secretaries, now in the Commercial Department, are longing to hear. No, not "Will you marry me?" but "Take this letter, please."

End of the line—

"The most important thing in a democratic organization is the individual. East High's enrollment this year was just under the 2,000 mark. In order, I want to present the individuals who make up the Senior Class, the Junior Class, the Sophomore Class, and the Freshman Class."

WILLIAM McELROY

President

A leader who is looked up to by his fellow classmates, and admired for his ability to manage Senior affairs is Bill McElroy. He has also served the school by being a capable president of the Boys' Club.

BETTY GRIBBLE

Secretary

Betty has the enviable quality of a very likable personality. She is always ready to do her share, and because of this she has held many secretarial positions, proving her responsibility and efficiency.

CHARLES KOBELLENZ

Vice-President

Charles, better known by his classmates as "Chuck," has been a faithful, hard-working member of the class. He is outstanding in his willingness to serve others, and in his ability to manage extra-curricular activities successfully.

Having decided what to leave as a memorial, the committee is now looking through catalogues, getting ready for the final purchase. The committee consists of the following: Standing, Wilma Jean Thomas, Ethel Gamage, Alta Walden. Sitting, Ethel Morris, Betty Kellett, Fred Pfeiffer, Don Hawking.

The commencement and baccalaureate committee, not only decided on our program for graduation but also planned for the services to be held at East High this year. Art Muschler, Bob Thumm, Mary Margaret Budd, Margie Weston, Mary Crego, Fred Ilseman, and Betty Jane Simmons were the members.

Looking through menus has given this committee an idea on what to serve at the Senior Banquet. Don Johnson, Edith Nieman, Melvin Meyer, Jessie Cousland, and Ralph Foster were members of this group.

Benediction

"What a Life!"

Henry Aldrich, famed character of screen, stage and radio appeared in "What a Life," April 25-26, under the direction of Miss Eliza Thomas. Henry, a frequent caller in the school office was first sent there by Miss Egelston for drawing pictures. Here complications arose when Henry asked Barbara Pearson to the Spring Dance to which he would be allowed to go under two conditions. The first, if he would pass his history examination, and the second, pass it with the highest grade in his class. This he accomplished . . . with the aid of George Bigelow's paper. Of course, much to his sorrow, Henry was found guilty for doing this.

The same day, the band instruments which had been stolen, were found in a pawn shop, under Henry's name. Instead of attending a reform school for this crime, he was allowed to take a course in art at the South Side Trade School.

It was later discovered that George was responsible for the disappearance of the instruments. To complete this happy discovery, Henry was given tickets so that he could take Barbara to the dance.

After the instruments were returned from the pawn shop, the detective checks them over to see that none of them are missing.

A daily occurrence in every high school, as well as in Central High, is a line of students waiting to receive their excuses.

Old hats, old shoes!

Richard Blakinger, Margie Weston, and Mary Crego were chosen as Commencement speakers because of their high scholastic standing, their service to the school, and their ability in speaking.

"Old rags, shoes, hats, furniture! Anything will do; we'll sell it." This might be said by any senior as he collects rummage each year for the annual rummage sale of the Senior Class, and Parent-Teacher Association.

They take the cake.

During Stunt Day, seniors as well as underclassmen won prizes because of the fashion in which they dressed. Bob Mall and Don Tennant were among those who received honors. Bob was dressed as a circus clown, while Don frightened students by his costume, an original interpretation of Frankenstein.

The money which the Speculum doesn't receive from the activity tickets must be secured from the business men of Aurora. All seniors are eligible to go out for the Patron Drive. This year the senior boy who turned in the most money was Stanley Whitmore.

Eilers, B. Gossmann, D. Ellis.

Proud of their ring.

After discussing the good and bad features of a number of sample rings, the committee chose three which they submitted to a class vote. The official class ring was thus chosen. This year's committee was as follows: Sitting, Mildred Muzzy, Alice Mietz, Winifred Beane, Betty Jane Hoffman, Bob Roth. Standing, Ray Albert, Dick Ettinger, Ben Stakemiller.

Back Row—R. Keeley, R. Johnson, J. Heitkotter, R. Ridgeway, R. Johnson, J. Jurgelonis, Mr. T. L. Carlson. Fourth Row—J. Johnson, G. Jackson, B. Keup, J. Ideran, L. Hennen, M. Kellett, E. Klein. Third Row—A. Hornyan, C. Jaki, J. Kearns, W. Herman, D. Hemphill, R. Joseph, K. Jahn. Second Row—B. J. Hoffmann, P. Hickey, G. Jones, S. Kling, D. Hochsprung, H. Judt, J. Illyes. Front Row—C. Sauer, R. Roth, P. Ruch.

In order to make anything a success you must advertise it. These juniors have the right idea as they tack up posters for the annual Junior Dance, this year named the "Bunny Bounce." Audrey Handell, Mildred Muzzy, Helen Judt, Obert Lay, and Bill Hollon represent the committee.

Climax of the year—

MR. BROWN, SECTION D

Back Row—H. Swanson, S. Sipos, Mr. Brown, C. Sutherland. Fifth Row—G. Tatar, R. Steil, D. Spaniol, R. Smith, G. Popdan, E. Spaniol. Fourth Row—F. Swanson, J. Smith, R. Stearns, G. Thalhamer, E. Salute to Success

Dorothy Stueber's outstanding record of being on the High Honor Roll for four years is a result of working willfully and dependably. With all her studies, however, she found time to participate in the Junior and Senior Class Plays.

"Don't look so serious, Bud! You know 'All work and no play' isn't the rule in East High."

"You're right, Marge! Let's look at a few pictures of the lighter side of school and see if we can't catch a little of that East High spirit of everybody pulling together to have a good time."

at Play

The Brawn Patrol.

Boys' Club

Bob Carlson practicing his own pep meeting interpretation of "Confucious Say," seems to have aroused a little protest from Warren Muth, who conducted many of our convos this year.

During the football season, the Boys' Club sold small megaphone-shaped red and black pins featuring an "A." It looks as though Chuck Kobelenz has "sales appeal" because here we find him successful, Marilyn Grisch being the purchaser.

In the middle of the year, when new freshmen come in, the Boys' and Girls' Clubs select juniors and seniors to act as big brothers and sisters. Each is to show his little sister or brother around the school, in order that the newcomers may become better acquainted. Here Georgia Zickert is assisting Jeanne Brown, and Art Anderson, Howard Hills.

One of the year's most successful events for the Girls' Club was Bow Week, held to earn money for redecorating the club room. On Monday green bows were sold for the freshmen; Tuesday yellow for the sophomores; Wednesday red for the juniors, and Thursday blue for the seniors. On Friday, each class wore its own colors, although here and there were seen a few divided loyalties with rainbow variations.

Girls' Club sponsored a new activity this year—Pal Week. During this week girls made friends with ladies from Sunnymere by writing letters to them, and later giving them a party. Since then the girls and their pals have exchanged gifts, given parties, and spent many enjoyable times together.

The most important and helpful event that the Girls' Club sponsors jointly with the Aurora Beacon-News Empty Stocking Fund, is the annual Christmas Party for the many needy children of Aurora. Santa Claus seems to be making these children happy as he presents them with gifts that make their eyes sparkle.

May we present

Making arrangements for all pictures, taking them, trimming, mounting, and identifying them is all the work of the photography department. This group consists of Melvin Meyer, Lillian Tesch, Ann McCormick, Mary Ann Swanson, and Jessie Cousland who is the photography editor. Stanley Whitmore, Paul Jahn, and June Phillips are not in picture.

the "Spec" Staff!

Writing all the copy in the "Spec" is the task that the literary staff must accomplish. Standing, Ethel Mae Gladstone, Ethel Morris, Wilma Jean Thomas. Sitting, Virginia Maron, Alta Walden, literary editor, and June Spence. Catherine Gluck is not in the picture.

The business department conducts the patrons drive, mid-year sale, and the distribution of the annual. The members are Betty Kline, Mary Klein, George Goeltz, business manager, Ethel Gamage, Shirley Pillatsch, and Dorothy Krock. Jean Pederson is also a member of this department.

Editors

Headlines! Deadlines!

The AURORAN news reporters have a vast amount of work to do. Gathering news, and writing stories into a readable style is a task which takes time to accomplish. Several workers here are Elaine Hughes, Mary Frances Anning, Obert Lay, and Ethel Morris.

The work of the copyreaders is to check over all copy before it goes to the printer. Errors in punctuation, spelling, and sentence structure are corrected. Here is a group pondering over their work. Lucille Schelling and Jack Runniger standing; Alta Walden and Art Muschler sitting.

"All American Review"

The variety show sponsored by the AURORAN had as one of its features, Bob Carlson, the old professor, and Margie Chase, a student who more than makes amends for being late, when she polishes off—"An Apple For the Teacher."

One of the highlights of the annual Boys' Club Minstrel, as featured by an issue of the AURORAN, was this bevy of beautiful girls (?) and handsome boys showing their talent by dancing and singing to the strains of—"Under the Spreading Chestnut Tree."

This is the first string debate team. During the season Bill Allen and Dick Blakinger have been on the negative, and the other four debaters on the affirmative. They are left to right Dick Blakinger, Joe Ernst, Bill Allen, Marge Weston, Mary Crego, and Bob Thumm; standing, Joe Afterman, Iris Butke, Mary Jane Kraus, Bernard Goldsmith.

Junior Delphi is an organization open for all freshmen and sophomores. The purpose of the club is to help students learn the proper procedure of conducting a business meeting, and also to help them talk before groups. Here is a group of Delphians thinking of a suitable program for the next meeting. June Benter, Lou Ann Mihr, Mary Jane Kraus, Delores Sanderson, Kathryn Fleming, Virgil Smith.

AARON ALBRIGHT

To Mr. Albright goes the distinction of coaching the last East Aurora lightweight football team. Knowing the interest and time spent in the game he loves, we appreciate his splendid work.

C. S. STUNKEL

His fine sense of humor and his methods of coaching brought Coach Charles Stunkel the respect and admiration of all his players.

DONALD BROWN

Mr. Brown holds the position of wrestling coach. Building the sport to importance has been a splendid job of his.

RODGER E. STUTZ

Mr. Stutz, assistant lightweight football mentor and golf instructor, is known for his winning smile and pleasing personality.

G. C. THOMPSON

Glen "Tommy" Thompson, heavyweight coach, is a favorite of all. Having heavyweight football and track, he is tops with all whom he comes in contact.

HERBERT HEILMAN

A new addition to the staff, Mr. Heilman, freshman-sophomore coach, proved not only to be a hustler but a genuine good fellow.

THEODORE WIEDENBECK

Mr. Wiedenbeck is lightweight basketball coach, as well as tennis instructor. He is known for his wholehearted enthusiasm.

Here's something new!

Waterman, Little Ten champions, are shown in action, defeating the Stunkelmen, in a thrilling, nip-and-tuck encounter.

Paced by Capt. Smiley, crack high-scoring forward, the Waterman quintette nosed out the Red and Black cagers by 31-29.

Thanks for the memory.

A sparkling fourth quarter rally, in which they scored all their points, netted West High a 20-7 victory over East. Below are a few scenes from the game which was played on the East High gridiron.

Cinder aces.

Dick Verbic and Jack Sellen, two stalwarts of the relay team, are shown going through their paces.

Two boys who consistently won points in the pole vault for East were Bob Meyer and Bill Von Ohlen.

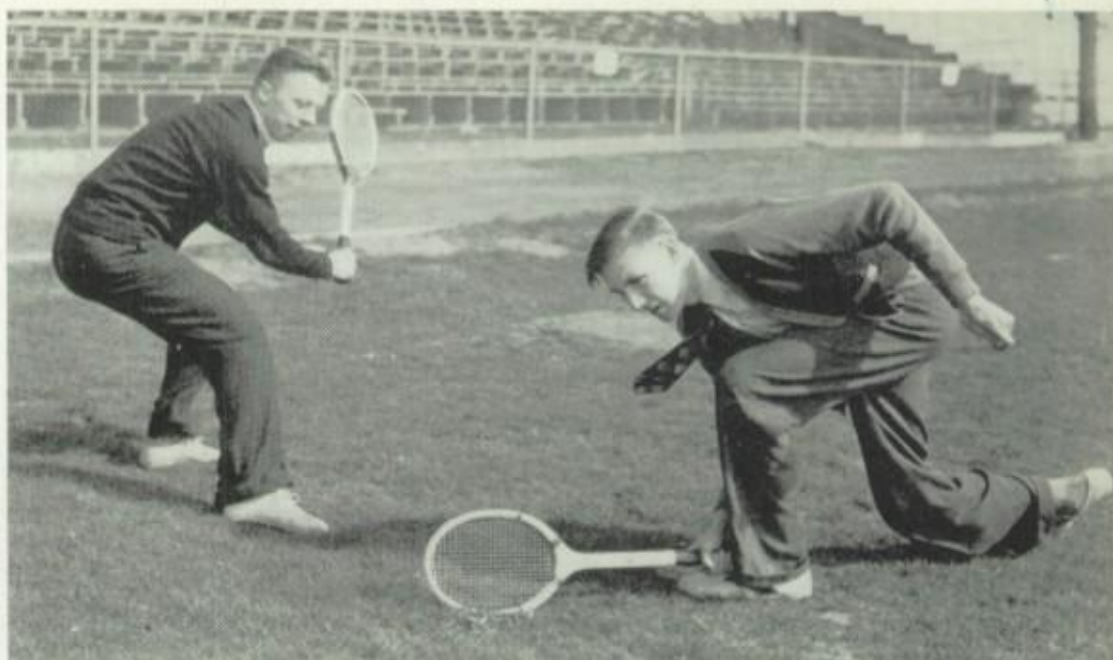

Among the Tomcat high jumpers who made creditable performances with the track squad was Gail Barbee.

A boy who, when he didn't win, was always good for a second or third in the high hurdles was John Rokop, a lanky senior.

Hole in one?

In spite of the fact that the tennis courts have not yet been completed, East High netmen have practiced diligently in preparation for the tennis season of 1940.

Golf

East High's golf team is to be built around three returning let-termen this year. The team consists of the following:

Tennis

Ted Wiedenbeck is again coaching the tennis team this year.

Strike!

This year the Rifle Club is under the supervision of two faculty members, Mr. C. I. Carlson and Mr. G. M. Runninger. A standard 50-foot range has recently been set up in the attic. Active on this year's squad were:

Rifle Club

Ready! Aim! Fire! A little outdoor practice keeps these marksmen in trim.

Bowling

A sport that is becoming more popular every year is bowling. The team now includes fourteen members.

You'll be the next!

Wrestling

During the past few years wrestling has advanced from being an intramural sport to having scheduled meets with other schools.

Things we live for.

G.A.A. Sports

Crisp autumn air, back to school, and—hockey. This year's activities started off with the girls practicing fundamental techniques and studying the rules; then a bang-up intra-school tournament followed. The girls had a spread for the winning hockey team. A set of skill tests were given also, but the high light of the season was the mixed East-West game, where the teams really "mixed" in a fast one.

Basketball—one of the most popular sports in G.A.A. A practice sent the team bouncing through the season and the final game of the class tournament closed the score books. What were the results of that last game? The seniors reigned supreme. East High also had guests from West Aurora, Batavia, DeKalb, Geneva and Yorkville at the big basketball play day. Other seasonal activities were the Official's Classes and the State Telegraphic Basket Shooting Contest.

A shuttlecock, a five ounce racket, a court, and speed spells—badminton, punctuated with lots of fun. Instruction was given to the girls in the fine points of the game, then a tournament held full sway for a while. The games were hotly contested and the entire season was really a lively one. Along with badminton, a table tennis tournament was held.

Archery—The meetings of the archery enthusiasts were held at the athletic field. After the archers "unearthed" their point of aim they finally started scoring in the bull's eye. The season was climaxed by the students shooting in a Junior Round Robin Tournament.

In the spring a G.A.A. girl's fancy turns to—tennis. Early in the season balls, rackets, and girls made it hot for any available wall space. What were they doing? Practicing the forehand, backhand, and service. After much practice the girls adjourned to the courts and played off an elimination tournament. East High also had several tennis meets with girls in other schools.

With the winners.

The first sport that G.A.A. offers in September, after returning to school is hockey. Practices are always held at Young School. This is the Winning Hockey Team.

Another sport that is very much enjoyed by the G.A.A. members is basketball. This team is tops for these girls are the winners. Wilma Jean Thomas, Nellie Paskadi, Dorothy Augustine, Corrine Burson, Lou Bonya, Ruth Zander, Edith Nieman, Julia Banks.

Even though volleyball cannot be classified as the favorite sport of these girls, it, nevertheless creates much interest and excitement among them. The section volleyball winners are:

What's the most looked forward to event of the year, especially when Lewie Spears takes part in it? The only answer to this could be the annual Boys' Club Minstrel. In the first shot is pictured the lightweight football chorus, Ed Arenkill, Francis Bieschke, Bob Platt, Joe Horber, Bob Walker, Herb Covert, Henry Seifrid, Joe Timmerman. The end men and interlocutor really keep things lively during the entire show. In the same position as they were in the show they are, Bob Carlson, Chuck Kobelenz, Harold Matthews, Dick Bieber, Warren Muth, Rodger Stutz, Interlocutor; Bob Chambers, Boyd Clow, Kenneth Paulson, Kenneth Mitchell and Lewis Spears. The last picture features the entire minstrel cast.
